

Feeling cooped up? Got cabin fever? Yearning for the warm days at the drive-in movies? Well, bring a comfy chair, snacks to share with friends and join us for

Wednesday Night at the Movies with Raymond Arts
7:00 PM at Gove Middle School

February 13 Cinema Paradiso (1988-Italy)

-Cannes Film Festival, Special Jury Prize

-Academy Award, Best Foreign Film

A young boy is enthralled by the movie theater in his small town and a friendship blooms between the boy and the film projectionist.

“Captivating and bittersweet”

February 27 The Gods Must be Crazy (1981-Botswana)

In this clever clash of African cultures, a Bushman’s encounter with a Coca-Cola bottle leads him on a quest, a city businesswoman leaves the comforts of home to teach in a remote village and a bumbling scientist brings slapstick to new heights.

“Completely disarming”

March 12 Shall We Dance? (1996-Japan)

A middle-aged businessman yearns to break out of his rigid cultural expectations and learn ballroom dancing.

“Deliberately paced and laced with humor”

March 26 The Legend of Fong Sai Yuk (1993-Hong Kong)

A young martial arts expert (Jet Li) fights to save his father’s life, resist a ruthless emperor and win the heart of his true love.

“Action packed comedy of errors”
